THE SENIOR CLASS
of Butler High School

In recognition of the services performed for our High School and of the untiring friendship and aid given us during the past four years; we, the Senior Class of '28 sincerely dedicate this volume of the Tropaeum to Mr. Wooden.

Foreword

It is our desire to compress into these pages the happy memories of youth, during the four years spent in school, and put them in a form that as these pages are turned in time to come the happy associations and activities of those few years will remain vividly alive in the mind along with the knowledge and experience derived.

VELDA HUNTINGTON—"Veldie"

Editor-in-Chief Tropaeum
1, 2, 3, 4.

This book is an epic of her handwork
She was always busy and never shirked.

ROBERT KING—"Bob"

Class President
1, 2, 3, 4.

Calm and serene, with attractive charm
Bob's a lad the world can't harm.

PAUL OBERLIN—"Obie"

Vice-President
1, 2, 3, 4.

Good-looking, good dancer and jolly to all;
You know every girl for Obie would fall.

MARCELLE SMITH—"Smitty"

Ass't Editor of Tropaeum
1, 2, 3, 4.

Musical and clever, the girl by this name,
You'll surely meet her on the road to fame.

JOHN CAMPBELL—"Acton"

Treasurer
1, 2, 3, 4.

For working hard and bluffing much,
John sets a pace that you can't touch.

ROBERT CATHER—"Bob"

Secretary
1, 2, 3, 4.

To enter business life is Bob's ambition,
We all feel he's fitted for this position.

VARA FIFER—"Vayree"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Agreeable, demure and willing to do,
We want no more—she's really true blue.

DONNA HIGLEY—"Donnie"

1, 2, 3, 4.

From Donna we expect great things
She plays the saxaphone, piano and sings.

RAYMOND WISE—"Wisey"

1, 2, 3, 4.

He's not so big, as you can see,
But his middle name's Dependability.

ROBERT POFFENBERGER—"Poffie"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Talkative?—no not at all!
Just for time he likes to stall.

LUCILE HAMMAN—"Lucy"

1, 2, 3, 4.

We think Lucile a teacher will be,
For she's always pleasant and clever, you see.

HAROLD ASH—"Ash"

Warsaw 1, 2.

"All the world's a stage"—here
I'll have my share of fun, don't fear.

BESSIE MAE SNYDER—"Betty"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Frowns and laughter—frowns and laughter,
As long as she's happy, what does it matter?

JOHN HAVERSTOCK—"Johnny"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Johnny's so innocent, but that's hardly fair
In being good sport, Johnny's right there.

RUTH NORAGON—"Ruthie"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Ruth's hobby is music—as you can see.
She'll go to college and earn a degree.

CARVER NEWCOMBE—"Chick"

Carleton 1, 2.

One hundred third congressman of this district he'll be,
A mighty good orator, with force, you'll see!!

FRANK PARKER—"Park"

Ligonier 1, 2.

Twinkle, twinkle little star,
Oh, how hard you think you are;
But we know your heart's all right
By your victory in the fight!

ROY BAUMGARDNER—"Bum"

Churubusco 1.

With a steady step and a quiet smile,
Roy finds much in life worthwhile.

VIRGINIA STONE—"Ginny Belle"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Restaurants interest Virginia so much,
Harry, a diamond, a Hudson, and such.

WANDA McCLELLAN—"Wanda"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Wanda will entertain us all to tea
For a Home Economics teacher she'll be.

PAUL KISSINGER—"Fat"

1, 2, 3, 4.

Jolly, kind hearted, and a mighty good sport,
As manager for the team he never fell short.

WANETA CASEBERE—"Neteo"

1, 2, 3, 4.

In bookkeeping Waneta's a shark,
She thinks business life's a lark.

HAROLD MILLIMAN—"Milly"

1, 2, 3, 4.

"I journey to Hicksville on Sunday night,
Then ride the milk wagon as soon as it's light."

Class History

We, the seniors of the class of '28, submit this history to the classes of B. H. S. for years to come. We give them all our wishes of success and hope they keep on marching to the goal of victory.

Four years ago a class of fifty-seven made their entrance into the new high school building which had just been built. How "green" and "timid" we were when we began the big task before us! Under the sponsorship of Miss Perkins the class entered into school activities and tried to make themselves useful, following the motto: "B-sharp, B-natural, but never B-flat."

The following year the class came forth with a new spirit. During our Sophomore year Miss Cline was our class sponsor. A few departed from the class but the rest were becoming more acquainted with high school life.

In the junior year, John Campbell was chosen president. A few members of the class entered into contests and several of our boys gave increasing strength to the basket ball team. A play, "Safety First," was given under the coaching of Miss Greatbatch. The play being a success, supplied funds for our Junior and Senior banquet. Having earned the right to wear the school's name, rings were purchased by the class.

At last, when the fourth year came, only twenty-three of the original class remained. A lyceum course and the senior play, "Cheer Up Chad" were offered to the public through the efforts of the class. The class has left many honors in the foot prints of B. H. S. Marcelle Smith won the Lincoln medal and Robert King won the Lincoln essay in the county contest.

Now we have finished our high school work and each of us are ready to enter a field of our own ambition.

Favorite Expressions of the Seniors

Harold Ash—"Do you still love me?"
Roy Baumgardner—"I betcha."
Robert Cather—"Which one?"
John Haverstock—"Aw, leave me alone!"
Paul Kissinger—"Do tell!"
Robert King—"Oh, shoot!"
John Campbell—"It's a great life if you don't weaken!"
Robt. Poffenberger—"No chips!"
Paul Oberlin—"Oh, dry up; that's all right."
Frank Parker—"All right, pipe down."
Carver Newcombe—"Rowdy Dow."
Raymond Wise—"I'm glad I'm out of that."
Harold Milliman—"Who is she?"
Velda Huntington—"Oh, Heavens!"
Wanda McClellan—"She makes me tired."
Vara Fifer—"I might."
Virginia Stone—"Oh well, you know what I mean."
Ruth Noragon—"Oh, pshaw—"
Marcelle Smith—"My, Governor!"
Donna Higley—"Good-night."
Bessie Mae Snyder—"By gol—"
Lucile Hamman—"Are you sure?"

Who's Who in 1940

This morning as I was looking over my mail I was greatly surprised and delighted to find among the many other things, a little book entitled, "The Members of Our Graduating Class in 1940." Just such surprises start a chain of thoughts; mine being linked together by old school day memories. It was a gift from Velda, who, now being a successful editor and owner of a large publishing plant, had written and published these books for the benefit of old classmates.

The rest of the mail was left unopened while for three hours I followed the struggles of my old class-mates from the time of their graduation from Butler High in 1928 up to the present year of 1940. The first name was:

HAROLD ASH—One of America's foremost architectural engineers, graduated from Butler High in 1928 and from an engineering school four years later. He spent three of the following years studying in Europe. Later he became widely known by building the famous Wayne Temple.

ROY BUMGARDNER—Roy has established for himself world-wide fame by his wonderful discovery which makes possible taking pictures in natural colors. Having spent three years doing experimental work he went to Paris to study. He is at present practicing in New York Schools of photography.

JOHN CAMPBELL—City manager of New York, well known for his efficient business methods. After completing a college course he became, in turn, city manager of Butler, Ft. Wayne, Indianapolis, Chicago, Boston and in 1939 New York. (We wonder how our radical John was fortunate enough to jump to the seat of highest attention.)

WANETA CASEBERE—Adventuress. Her hobby is playing the New York stock market. So far she has escaped without serious loss of fortune.

ROBERT CATHER—Banker in Chicago. Upon graduating from a superior business college he secured a position for which he was well qualified, a banker in Ft. Wayne. He now owns the largest amount of shares in Chicago's largest bank.

VARA FIFER—Nurse. Graduated from Butler High School in 1928 and from Chicago Nurses' Training School in 1932. She has received high honors for thoughtfulness, quietness, coolness, and integrity. Just recently she has been given the highest award due nurses.

LUCILE HAMMAN—Teacher, and social worker. After graduating from Butler she spent four years in college and accepted a position in the Butler schools in 1933. At present she is teaching in Detroit.

JOHN HAVERSTOCK—Printers devil. Although he can rarely hold a position longer than six months, yet he is held in high esteem by all publishers who are fortunate enough to escape his unending tricks. He is making slow but steady advancement in his line of work.

DONNA KISSINGER NEE HIGLEY—Owner and manager of the 'Wild Rose' chain of beauty parlors, known throughout Indiana and Ohio. Through the invention of wireless transmitting of vision, she is able to carry on her management from her home in Northern Canada.

VELDA SNYDER NEE HUNTINGTON—Editor and published of "The World's Newsy News." Her extra time is devoted to her pet hobby, orphans and orphans' homes. Her home is at present in New York.

ROBERT E. KING—Author. After graduating from Butler High School he spent two years on the farm, following this with four complete terms in college studying English. His keen observation, ready wit and kindness, as well as integrity and originality are to be found in all his books. "Stars Tell," just recently published is his most popular book.

PAUL KISSINGER—Ranchman. Owner of 5,000 acres of rich wheat land in Northwestern Canada. Under his management the ranch has become one of the most famous in North America. (I could not help wondering at this. Who would have supposed that "Fat" would ever become a rancher?)

WANDA WISE NEE McCLELLAN—Housewife. Formerly a teacher of Home Economics at Butler High School. She is a candidate for the place of Home Economics Supervisor of the United States.

HAROLD MILLIMAN—Amateur inventor. His new building material is slowly gaining popularity. He is at present considering entering a college to further his knowledge on science.

CARVER NEWCOMBE—United States Senator—famous because of his oratorical ability. He is rapidly becoming one of the leaders of his party and is being well supported by his home State in his political career.

RUTH NORAGON—Very popular broadway chorus girl. She has recently signed a contract with the famous Ziegfield follies and may enter the movies later in the year.

PAUL R. OBERLIN—Minister. Lectures twice a week at "The Little Brown Church Around the Corner" in New York. Mr. Oberlin is a graduate of Yale and is a well-known contributor to the New York papers.

FRANK PARKER—Socialistic candidate for President. Graduated from Alabama U. in 1934. Accepted the position of Ambassador to Russia in 1937. Returned in 1939 and was recently nominated for President by the Socialist party. He expects to be elected.

ROBERT E. POFFENBERGER—Prominent doctor. An authority on diseases transmitted by certain insects. He is at present in the jungles of South Africa where he is experimenting with diseases of that climate. He is also a specialist on heart cases—although still a bachelor.

VIRGINIA SCHLATTER NEE STONE—Housewife. Also an authority on home decorating. Her present home is near Columbus, Ohio.

MARCELLE SMITH—Lady director of Women's All-American Band. Also a composer of popular and standard music. She is at present broadcasting every evening from station I. U. W.

BESSIE MAE SNYDER—Private tutor, engaged at present in teaching the children of the Prince of Wales. It is rumored, however, that she is soon to become the private Counsel of the Queen of Roumania.

RAYMOND WISE—Governor General of the Philippines. A graduate of Indiana U. In 1939 he was sent to the Philippines to put down a dangerous uprising. The people of the islands are well satisfied with their new ruler and the wonderful improvements he has aided in bringing about.

Will and Testament

We, the Senior class of Butler High School, DeKalb county, State of Indiana, U. S. A., being scholars of high ability, impervious to the various moods of the teachers, matchless minds and exalted in the eyes of public do on this day of April, 1928, declare this our last will and testament, all former documents or manuscripts hereby declared null and void. Attested this 17th day of April by Vara Fifer and Lucile Hamman.

SECTION I

Article 1.

We, the Senior class do make the following bequests:

Item 1. To all classmen the grammatical ability, dignity and sagacity of our illustrious class.

Item 2. To the jolly Juniors the vivacity and alertness in attempting to edit a successful Tropaeum. (You are welcome to all our troubles.)

Item 3. To the Sophomores the mathematical tendency of our Senior boys.

Item 4. To the Freshmen, the humility of the Senior class. (He that's most humble shall be greatest.

Article II.

Item 1. To H. Z. Wooden our hearty appreciation in guiding our class ship toward its goal—graduation.

Item 2. To R. V. Goodrich the power of our persuasion in sponsoring the oncoming Senior class.

Item 3. To all the teachers we give the hopes of having more studious classes than the Seniors of this year.

Item 4. To the janitor we bequeath the step-ladder of our success. May he use it to straighten the pictures in the assembly room.

SECTION II

Article 1.

Item 1. I, Harold Ash, do will my ability to talk to Kester Cather.

Junior Class History

The Junior Class started its third year of high school with twenty-nine members. This has been a different but thoroughly satisfactory year.

On November twenty-first a Ring Dinner was held to celebrate the purchase of our class rings which have been a source of pleasure to the members. Friday, April 13, a play, "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom" was presented to a full house. On Friday, April 27, the Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Hotel Butler.

We have one more year in which to prove ourselves; may it be one of pleasure and accomplishment.

Sophomore Class History

On September 7, 1926, forty-one Freshmen entered high school. Under the guidance of Miss Greatbatch and Blaine Rex, our president, the Freshmen made a name for themselves in B. H. S.

Donald Keefer and Harold Hodges represented the freshmen on the Varsity basketball team. Doris Kester was the Butler representative in the county literary contest.

During the second year we chose Donald Keefer for our leader. Again this group of thirty students took part in school activities. Wilma Metcalf and Harold Bonecutter joined our ranks.

Since all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, we held two parties, one a Hallowe'en masquerade and the other an April Fool's party. We are now bringing to a close the Sophomore year of the class of thirty, proud of our past and hoping to make our future more successful.

History of the Freshman Class

The Freshman class this year was one of the largest ever enrolled in Butler High School. The reception and the attitude of the Upper classes made the Freshmen feel that they were received as a part of the school.

At its first class meeting the following class officers were elected: Helen Holman, President; David Wayne Blaker, Vice-President; Josephine Shaffer, Secretary; Joseph Cather, Treasurer; and Miss Gastineau, class sponsor.

The first social affair of the year was a Hallowe'en party held in the gymnasium. Delicious refreshments were served and many enjoyable games were played. December 22nd a Christmas party was held in the art room.

In basket-ball the class was represented by Donald Deck, David Wayne Blaker and Walter Smith.

Next year we not only hope to acquire a more dignified name than "green Freshies" but to attain more knowledge under the kind and cordial auspices of our teachers.

—Josephine Shaffer.

Science Club

The Galilleo Science Club organized under the supervision of Professors Goodrich and Wooden, has indeed been doing a good work in the school. The club is exclusive in regard to Freshmen, because it requires its members to have had one year of science in the high school. The science of the world is evidently a record of the world's past history of good and bad. To know nature or humanity one must first understand its origin, and science is a study of the world in the present, past and future. Numerous programs were carried on throughout the year in which each member participated.

ORCHESTRA

Seated—A. Holman, Cornet; R. Noragon, Saxaphone; L. Hamman, Tuba; D. Kester, Piano; A. Miller, Violin.

Standing—Miss Finke, Directress; V. Stone, Clarinet; D. Blaker, Clarinet; B. Sturgis, Clarinet; L. McClellan, Violin.

Orchestra

Butler High School has again demonstrated an orchestra which is to be complimented very highly.

The orchestra was requested to play for the public on several occasions and received many copmliments and encouragement to play oftener.

The organization met once a week and through the careful and educational instruction of Miss Finke, they at the close of the school year, were able to furnish music worthy of appreciation.

The orchestra consisted of 10 pieces and much talent is promised for the coming year for a bigger, better orchestra for B. H. S.

GLEE CLUB

Fourth Row—L. Hamman, R. Mutzfeld, S. Sewell, V. Kline, D. Higley, C. Oberlin, H. Hanna, M. Hatfield, M. Grube, C. Nelson, C. Stewart.

Blue Triangle Girls

The Blue Triangle Girls organized their club for the year '27-'28 in October with Miss Chapman as sponsor. The upper class girls were given "little sisters", freshmen, whom they took to a supper and meeting where twenty-three girls were initiated.

Meetings were held every fortnight and interesting lessons were conducted by various members of the club. Plans are under way for the Mothers' and Daughters' banquet which is an annual event.

The officers of the club for '27-'28 are:

President - - - -	Marcelle Smith
Vice-President - - -	Mowitza Hood
Secretary - - - -	Helen Hanna
Treasurer - - - -	Mable Casebere

—H. L. H. '29.

HI-Y CLUB

Third Row—R. Cather, D. Loomis, M. Oberlin, R. Lowe, R. King, K. Beebe, P. Oberlin, J. Campbell.

Hy-Y Club

The Hi-Y held its organization meeting of the year at the school house. Varied and interesting programs were carried out during the year among which was the Freshman round-up, Father and Son Banuqet, a social time in the Auburn Y. M. C. A., and play night.

The regular meetings were held at the homes of the members during the first semester and the school during the last. The programs were in charge of Harold Ash, and consisted of discussions, student speakers, and some outside speakers. Among the problems discussed were: problem of spare time, Hi-Y ideals, boy and girl relations, school spirit, and world brotherhood.

Hi-Y Purpose—To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

Two plays, "The First Day of School" and "Enter the Hero" were given under the auspices of the club. "The First Day of School", presented at the Demosthonian Literary Society, included the entire club. The cast of "Enter the Hero", which was presented at the Antonian Literary Society, was Lucile Hamman, Ruth Noragon, Virginia Stone and Robert King. The remaining time was spent in reading and studying drama.

It is planned to continue the club with a still larger membership and a more extensive program next year.

"Cheer Up Chad"

The Senior Class Play again met with great success. It was given on Friday evening, November 4, in the auditorium to a full house of spectators.

The play was a story of a common working girl, June Crawford, who inherited a farm with a valuable creek running through it. She, aroused to anger by the cutting remarks of Vivian Westerman, hastily remarked that she could bring her boss, Chad Barnett, to her feet within two weeks.

Many entanglements occurred during the following events, but they were unwoven in the end and everything ended happily.

PARTICIPANTS OF COUNTY LITERARY-MUSIC CONTEST AND LINCOLN ORATORICAL CONTEST

The district contest between St. Joe, Waterloo and Butler was held at Butler, March 23, in the school gymnasium. The events were double quartette, glee club, solo, piano solo, oration, discussion and reading. Butler entered in all these except glee club and won four first places which entitled them to compete at Auburn against Ashley, Auburn and St. Joe. Due to an abundance of musical talent in our school, a local contest was held for this event, Doris Kester being the winner and entering the district contest.

The Lincoln Oratorical contest was sponsored by the state and the entrants were the Senior English Class and Buren Ulm, Sophomore. The four selected were Vara Fifer, Robert King, Buren Ulm and Velda Huntington, Marcelle Smith receiving the Lincoln medal, given annually by the Illinois Watch Company, Springfield ,Ill., for the best essay on this great man. Robert King and Vara Fifer were chosen to represent B. H. S. in the county contest at Auburn. Here Vara took third place among the girls and Robert first among the boys, allowing him entrance in the district contest. He was defeated there, but due to his victory at Auburn, B. H. S. received a large bronze figure of Lincoln's head.

RUTH NORAGON—Soloist—winner at Butler

"Come out, come out, my dearest dear
Come out and greet the sun."

VARA FIFER—Lincoln Contest—winner at Butler

"His childhood was filled with hard work; his manhood with the struggles for a career which was to make him the self-reliant character that he was."

ROBERT KING—Lincoln Contest—winner at Auburn

"Every century has given to the world some great man, some genius with a mind far in advance of his age, who was able to look ahead into the future and realize the change of existing conditions. . . . In a rough, three-sided, pioneer shack in the wilds of western Kentucky, such a man was born in the person of Abraham Lincoln."

CARVER NEWCOMBE—Oration—winner at Butler

"Then and then only can we be assured that this government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the records of the world's life."

DOUBLE QUARTETTE—winners at Butler

Standing: D. Blaker, A. Miller, H. Ash, B. Sturgis;

Junior Class Play

The Junior Class Play, ''The Absent-Minded Bridegroom'' was scheduled for April 6. Due to unavoidable circumstances, it was postponed until Friday, April 13. The traditional ''bad luck'' of the day apparently had no effect on the success of the undertaking.

It was a story of Irish life, full of temperment and humor. Timothy Shea and Daphnay Rooney were to be married by the combined efforts of their children, Jimmy Rooney and Nora Shea, and friends, Fred Grady and Kathleen O'Conner, Tessie Conners, the maid, Shade, the detective, and Pat Rooney, the brother-in-law develop the plot. It becomes a terrible mix-up when Shea gets ''aphasia'' and is called ''father'' by three neighbor children. A huge laugh, good fun, and excellent entertainment were some of the criticisms offered to ''The Absent-Minded Bridegroom.''

Antonian Literary Society

The Antonian Literary society was organized in 1922.

The talent of the high school has been so divided that each literary society has approximately an equal share. As the Freshmen enter B. H. S. the roll is taken and they are divided into two groups.

This year the Antonian literary entertainment was presented in May and was as follows:

Readings—Helen Hanna, Buren Ulm; Essay—Vara Fifer; Jazz Band—Play—Dramatic Club; Vaudeville—John Campbell; Musical selections—Wanda McClellan, Robert Gehring; Debate; Hooligans; Current Events—Bernard Sturgis.

John Campbell is leader of this society.

Demosthonean Literary Society

The Demosthonean Literary society was organized in 1922. The purpose of this society was to give entertainments every four weeks.

In the last two years the meetings have taken place at the school auditorium and in the evening. This allows a more complete and varied program.

The first program was presented in February of this year. The program was as follaws:

Medley of Songs—Whole Society; Quartette, Harold Ash, Alan Miller, Carver Newcombe and Bernard Sturgis; Reading—Marcelle Smith; Piano Solo—Donna Higley; Debate—Carver Newcombe, Frank Parker, and Robert Poffenberger, also Keith Beebe, Alan Miller, and Arthur Campbell; Vaudeville skit—Frank Parker and Robert Poffenberger; Playlet—Dramatic Club.

Harold Ash was appointed president of this society for the year 1927-28.

The Lyceum Course

The Lyceum Course of the past season was a huge success, and was accompanied by unusual talent from the Sorensen Bureau. The four numbers were given throughout the winter in the following respective order: Larsher Duo, Gearhart Duo, Stuckman Novelty Duo; Lundburg Scott Trio. The course was under the auspices of the Senior Class and the members were well satisfied with the excellent attendance. The Junior Class plan to provide even better entertainment for next year which will be organizd with the same purpose as the past programs, namely: to give Butler community a chance to hear and see the best of talent along reading and musical lines and to provide clean, wholesome recreation and entertainment.

Junior-Senior Banquet, 1928

Honoring the graduating class of '28, the Juniors, on April 27, 1928, entertained with a banquet of lovely appointments at Hotel Butler.

The classes assembled in the lobby and to strains of Spanish music entered the dining room to find it decorated with red roses and sweet peas, the flowers of the two classes. The nut cups were red rose buds the stems of which formed the place cards. Tall tapers of purple and gold were the only lights.

Following the welcome address by Alan Miller, Junior president, and the response by the Senior president, Robert King, a lovely three-course dinner was served.

At the close of the last course a charming Senorita presented each one of the Seniors with a red rosebud. Then with Mr. Moore acting as toastmaster, toasts of a Spanish type were given by Miss Greatbatch, Mowitza Hood, Velda Huntington, and Mr. Marks.

THANK YOU, JUNIORS

As the time draws near and we must say good-bye to our Alma Mater, we, the Class of '28, take this opportunity to express our thanks to the faculty and underclassmen, and especially the Juniors for their splendid banquet, for their hearty cooyeration in all activities sponsored by the class and the friendship and good felings that we hope to have even though we are no longer a part of the student body.

Bay success be with your every endeavor and when we are no longer a member of the school we will always be held together by a tie of loyalty to B. H. S.

VICTORY SONG

Butler Medals

For several years Butler High School has given a medal for good sportsmanship in basketball. The points considered are: The player's attitude to- kind is truly one to be proud of and affords a goal for the practice of those mates, and a gentleman-like attitude in all public places. An award of this kind is truly one to be proud of nd affords a goal for the practice of those virtues that go to make up a useful citizen. The basketball group as a whole has shown such a fine spirit that it has often been hard to decide who should receive the medal.

Those who have received the medal are: Walter Rank—'24; Albert Wideman—'25; Harold Slentz—'26; Walter Fisher—'27; Frank Parker '28.

In the spring of 1926 it was decided to give a minature baseball for good sportsmanship, based on the same qualities as for the basketball. Those who received the medal are: Herbert Tyson—'26; Harold Slentz—'27; Gray Ty Coombs. '28.

The award is made by a committee made up of the following persons: Coach, each member of the faculty, editor of "Tropaeum", each letter man on the team; student manager, referee for basketball, umpire for baseball.

"B" PINS

For several years past Butler High has given scholarship pins to those students who have attained a high average in all subjects of their course. Gold pins are given to Seniors and silver to lower classmen. Those who received pins in 1927 are: Florence Maggart—'27; Colista Diehl—'27; Walter Fisher —'27; Jerald Teutch—'27; Frances Miller—'27; Lucile Hamman—'28; Marcelle Smith—'28; Harold Ash—'28; Frank Parker—'28; Velda Huntington— '28; Robert King—'28; Keith Beebe—'29; Bernard Sturgis—'29; Alan Miller —'29; Mowitza Hood—'29; Helen Cook—'30; Ragna Bryant—'30.

SUMMARY OF BASKETBALL SEASON '27 AND '28

The basketball season closed on March 2nd and 3rd at the Sectional tournament which was held at Garrett. This year the Butler squad loomed high in the Basketball kingdom winning 16 out of 21 games. Coach Marks certainly showed his coaching ability this year by turning out the best team Butler High has ever had.

Although we had a few tough breaks we can count this year as a most successful one. We lost the final games in both the County and Sectional tournaments. Butler played Spencerville in the County Tournament finals and lost only because our boys had such hard games during the day and in the Sectional Tourney Auburn had their usual luck when their captain put in a long shot and won the game for them by one point. We also beat Kendallville by 9 points and later they went to the State Tournament, which means something for Butler.

The second team won about 15 out of 18 games and the Juniors won the interclass tourney over the Seniors, which shows promising material for next year.

At the end of the year the business men presented three Seniors on the team with green and gold sweaters with stripes denoting the years of service and a star to show the captainship. The Seniors were Paul Oberlin, receiving four stripes and a star, Frank Parker, with two stripes and a star, and Carver Newcombe, receiving one stripe.

BASEBALL RECORD '27 AND '28

Early in the fall Coach Marks called for candidates for baseball. After two weeks' of hard practice on the High School lawn and diamond we played our first gme.

As a result of bad weather we were only able to play three games altogether.

Then in the spring on April 2, Coach Marks called for the first spring practice. Intensive coaching and training put the team in fine condition and we played our first spring game on April 25.

Oberlin, Parker and Ash constituted a wonderful outfield this year, and as they are Seniors the school keenly regrets its loss, but as the rest of the team are underclassmen we hope for great results next year.

JOHN CAMPBELL

PAUL KISSINGER

Much credit is due to Paul Kissinger, the assistant to Coach Marks, for his untiring and ever-willing aid with the basket ball team this season. He accompanied the team to every game this year and served as official score keeper for B. H. S.. Paul showed much management and good spirit with the team and surely was a loyal helper to Mr. Marks.

The two student managers, Alan Miller and Bernard Sturgis, administered the financial affairs of the athletic association. Their duty and fulfillment were to sell the tickets and manage the payments of expenses. It was certainly fine experience for them and they showed much worthy support to their school.

When it came to school pep and spirit John Campbell was there with the material to give and lead the yells.

Spirit of B. H. S. Athletics

No scheme of education can claim to be rounded out and to be developed to its fullest extent unless it provides for physical education. Hence, Butler has usually put teams into the field of competitive athletics. Athletics of that nature, however, must of necessity be limited to a few of the boys of the school. Attempting to prevent the development of an athletic oligarchy, the schools policy this year has been to promote not only varsity activities, but intra-mural activities on the playground and in the gymnasium. The purpose of all education is to strengthen character and promote citizenship, and physical education, or athletics, is particularly situated to do these things as well as promote healthy and well built bodies.

Butler's teams enter the floor or take their place on the field with a determination, first, to play the game; second, to honorably represent Butler; and third, to win. We expect nothing we cannot earn for ourselves; we are not bitter when the games go against us. Honesty, cleanness, sincerity, perserverance, cooperation—all characteristics of high-grade citizenship—are the team's goals.

The teams this year proved themselves worthy representatives of Butler, and Butler is proud of them.

—Coach Marks.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

A group of eight freshmen girls, strengthened by three sophomores, organized Nov. 10 for basket ball practice. Since the gym was not available at any other time, they practiced the hour before school. The girls showed some real ability and we believe that with another year of experience and regular practice time, they will develop into a basket ball team worthy of B. H. S.

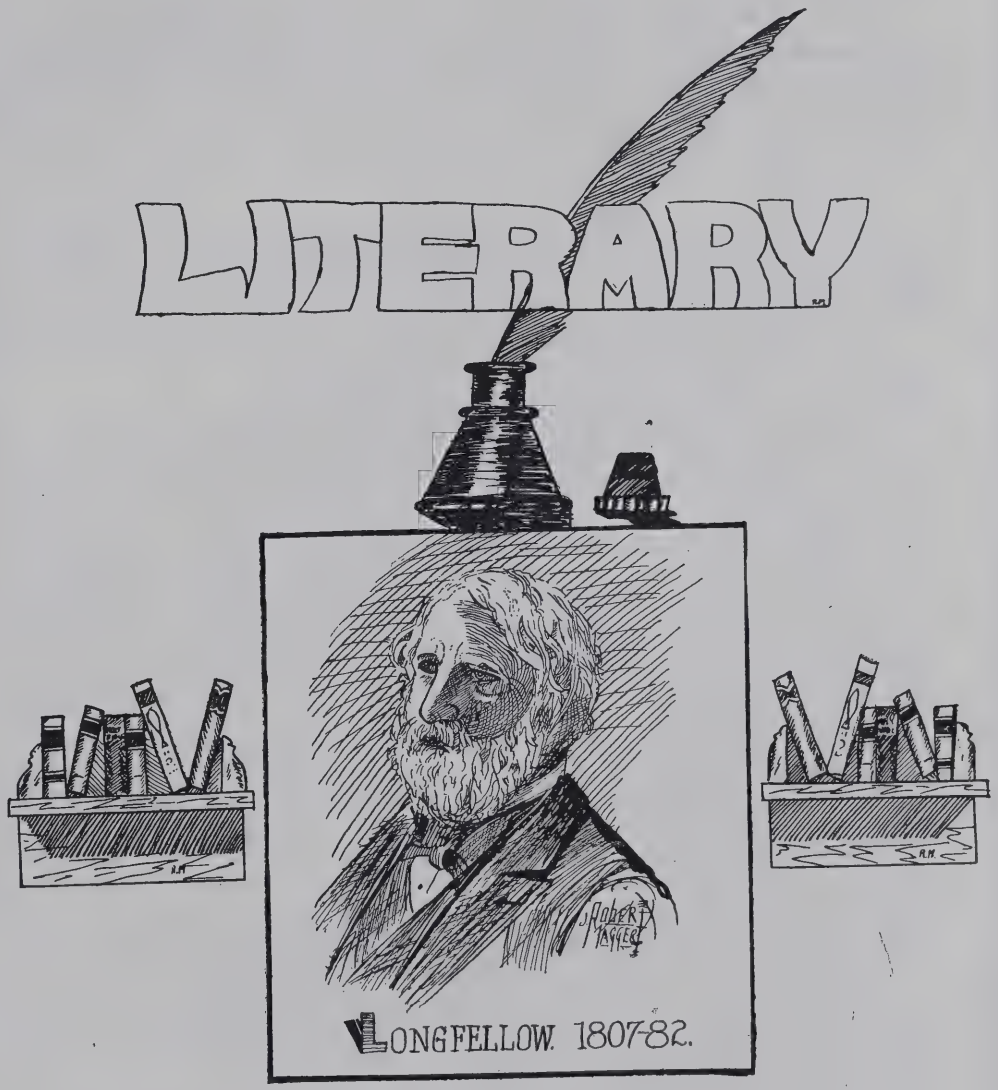
LITERARY



"ROSEWOOD"

The wind howled dismally, sifting snow through the crevices in the crude Priggins' cabin. Amanda drew her chair closer to the fire. This quaint chair, a long, immovable bench, a red plush couch, and a stationary table completed the furnishings of the poor home.

A terrific banging caused Amanda to rise and sulk across the room. With her shriveled hands she managed to open the window several inches and pull the loose storm-shutter. The banging ceased, but Amanda stood mumbling, "I can't stand it! It ain't no use! It isn't right for me to go on livin' this way when I don't have to."

"Woman!" commanded a burly voice. "Woman! stir that fire."

She did.

As she passed the chair, her fingers wandered over its ladder-back. She lifted a long poker from its rack and despondently poked the fire, threw a few sticks on it and replaced the poker. Then, she sat upon the quaint rush-bottom chair, staring into the blaze.

She sat there a long time while outside the wind shrieked and the snow flurried confusedly before it. The vociferous wind and a deep sonorous breathing from the couch were the only sounds audible.

Suddenly, Amanda's jaw set and her eyes blazed with injustice. "Saul! —Saul Priggins! Don't answer then, but just listen! You've done all the bossin' in this house for twenty year, and I never said a word in back-talk, but now it's my turn to talk."

"Listen, Saul Priggins, when that doctor comes in the mornin' I'm a goin' to go back to town with him, and they ain't nothin' as will stop me."

"I ain't been sick a'bed but once, other times I didn't complain. I ain't had but one new "alpacky" in these past four year, an' what do I git fer bein' economical? Nothin', but you go an break yer leg and squall like a baby." She glanced over at the dark spot enclosing the couch on which Saul lay. "Saul! Saul Priggins!" A deep snore answered her call and Amanda focussed her gaze on the fire again. "Now ain't that disgustin', but natural?"

She petted the chair. It was rosewood, and had been handed down from her grandmother Milly to her mother, and then from her mother to 'Manda. It was a beautiful piece in straight simple lines and Amanda loved it, prized it.

"I'll hire 'Liza Witman's horse and chase to Mellryvilln' get on the cars there and go to my brother's in 'York State. He allus said I was welcome to come an' visit. Wonder why he allus insisted on my bringing that rosewood chair with me? H'mm! He said he knowed a dealer in antiques where he could git me a nice price on it. Wonder how much it'd bring?"

She meditated, then, "Say, I wonder if—I just wonder if I'd be so welcome without that chair of mine?" Her face assumed perplexed lines and her brows knitted. "I jest wonder—? Now, John's wife 'n me never was real fond of each other, but then, if—"

"Woman! Stir up that thar fire!" Saul Priggins ordered in a surly tone.

Manda did.

"Woman! Put on more wood!"

She grovelled around in the box for a few sticks, but she drew her hand out clenched and empty. She said nothing.

"Woman! Why don't ye put that wood on?"

"They—ain't none!"

A long pause;—then:

"Woman, go git some!"

Amanda looked terror-stricken.

"Saul Priggins! If you think it's humanly possible fer any woman to step ten feet, let alone fifty-odd, from her door, you ain't—why then, you ain't in your right senses! I tell you, Saul, even if I could get out thar in this storm, the wood is froze in.

Saul said nothing, but he did not snore again, instead, he writhed and emitted occasional groans. Amanda drew her faded shawl about her thin shoulders and huddled close to the waning fire mumbling, "I wonder,—I jest wonder—?"

"Woman," the tone was not so harsh, but had a queer intonation of fear in it. "Woman! I'm gittin' cold!"

'Manda said nothing, but drew her shawl tighter, and shuddered.

Presently she arose and paced the floor. The winds shrieked and Saul groaned. His flesh was blue, and his eyes moist. When Amanda glanced at him, a look of disgust covered her face. Then, something happened which changed everything. It was when Saul called, "'Manda,"—she started, for she had not been called by her Christian name for years. "'Manda, I'm gittin' awful cold."

A few minutes later, the fire crackled noisily and long, blue flames with rose colored tips, reached high up the chimney. And Amanda sat on the couch beside Saul; they really smiled a little, for the room was warm and cheery.—Aged rosewood made splendid firewood and afforded a lovely, mellow glow.

—Robert Gehring.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE WORLD?

Has the whole world turned against you?
Now that surely is too bad,
But tell me, friend, do tell me,
Did you give it all you had?

Did you find your latent talents?
Did you search for hidden art?
Go back and start all over new;
Go, friend, do your part.

Then you'll find this old world waiting
To welcome you, as the one
Who knows it's not the world that's wrong,
But only the work he has done.

—Mowitza H. Hood.

FRESHMEN PHILOSOPHY

I sometimes wonder what's the use
To chew bagpipe and spit the juice;
I sometimes wonder, what's the reason
The Freshmen always get the teasin'!

We may be dumb in our own way,
But still we weigh just right I'd say.
We may be green and scared and slow,
But wait some years and we will show
You upper Classmen where to go.

We'll lead the way and lead it right,
And soon get over all this fright.

Some may be slim, some may be small,
Some may be fat, some may be tall.
But how does size effect the mind
Of those that work hard, and the kind.

That keep on plugging, on and on,
And never stop from dawn to dawn,
Some may be dumb, some may be bright
But-in-this-class-they're-all-all-right.

So upper classmen don't forget
That in this world you're Freshmen yet.

—David Blaker.

B. H. S. FACULTY

Under the slanting, gray, slate roof,
Eight fearless teachers stand.
The teachers, a mighty force are they
With chalk and questions in hand.
And the weight of their mighty questions too,
Are as hard as we can stand.

Mr. Wooden is a firm and determined man,
His class is an interesting thing,
His head is brimmed with knowledge clear,
And we doubt not anything
He looks the whole class in the face,
And argues like any man.

Week in, week out, from morn till night,
We can hear the phone bell ring,
We can hear Mr. Goodrich come through the hall,
To answer the important call,
Like a shepherd tending his flock of sheep,
He helps us all he dares.

And all the children come early to school,
To look at their English once more,
For they know they'll see Miss Greatbatch stand
And take their chalk in hand,
Her greeting sentence will ever be,
"We'll have a test today."

Mr. Moore goes out among the farmers
And talks about the weather,
He shows them how to plant and reap
And make the orchards grow.
He takes his Freshmen to the woods
The little flowers to show.

Miss Chapman keeps us in good humor
By furnishing us good eats,
We needs must think of her next year,

When far away we'll be.
And with our pale, white hands we'll wipe,
The tears out of our eyes.

Toiling — practicing — experimenting,
Onward through class Marks goes,
Each class period sees some knowledge imparted,
Each six weeks sees some gained.
Something awarded, something accomplished,
Has earned the town's respect.

Of Caesar Miss Gastineau has made a friend,
By the lessons she has taught,
Miss Finke tells us about the artists,
And the great things they have wrought,
And on the students they impress
The things not to be forgotten.

Thanks, thanks to thee, our worthy friends
For the precepts thou hast taught,
Thus in the flaming forge of school,
Our characters must be wrought.
Thus on its sounding anvil shaped,
Each burning deed and thought.

EVER ONWARD

Do you see those smiling sailors
As they stand upon the deck,
Can you see the floating banner,
Which was once a tiny speck?
Proclaim its message by the words,
Ever onward.

They're about to cast the anchor
For a short, reflective pause
E're they turn the emblem seaward
To be facing life's great cause;
With the eager voices calling,
Ever onward.

Hark! shipmates of twenty-eight!
With undaunted hearts of steel,
Sail on with bold determination
And be swift to send the peal
That will give us strength and courage,
Ever onward.

Though life's sea be rough and troubled,
And dark waves our path obscure,
Knowledge gained in Butler High School
Shall guide your ship secure,
With an aim alike our emblem,
Ever onward.

—V. C. Fifer.

The Butler Alumni Association

The officers of the Alumni Association are:

President ..... Claude Cook
Vice-President ..... Mary Jones Campbell
Secretary and Treasurer ..... Otis Fisher

Due to the fact that the list of graduates is increasing so much and it is impossible to find the correct address of each one, it was decided to reduce the Alumni directory to the last few classes that have graduated from Butler. For convenience, the year 1923 was suggested to begin our directory of the school.

EX-OFFICIO MEMBERS OF TROPAEUM

The Tropaeum would be incomplete without a word of recognization to the ex-officio members of the staff and school. The book is indebted:

To those who refused to buy an annual because "they could look at somebody else's or look at the dummy before it goes to press."

To those who forced the circulation managers into a long subscription campaign in order to sell enough copies to make the Tropaeum possible.

To those who brought in picture and snapshots after a dozen or more requests.

To those who say the Tropaeum is a bunch of graft and the editors are terrible persons for spending a thousand hours or more on such a worthless enterprise.

To those who have found fault with everything in connection with the book, who refuse to cooperate to make it the kind of an annual they want and who borrow one to see how many times they can find their pictures.

To those who had to be reminded innumerable times that they were to hand in material for the Tropaeum and then scribbled anything off, which the editors finally had to remodel and rewrite themselves.

To those who growled every time they were asked to do anything and refused to aid the busy editors by rearranging their study periods and reasonably sharing their time.

To those who said, "It's your annual," when asked to work, but say to others, "The Class of '28 put this out."

Such boosters have made the task of publishing the 1928 Tropaeum easy and delightful.

JOKES

Two Irishmen stood in front of a drug store. In the window was a display of rubber gloves.

"Now I wonder what is them things for?" asked one of the Irishmen.

"Oh," replied the other Irishman, "Ye can put them things on an' wash yer hands without gettin' yer hands wet."

Prof: "What did Sir Walter Rawleigh say to Queen Elizabeth when he laid down his coat for her to walk on?"

Student: "I don't know, what did he say?

Prof: "Why, 'Step on her, Lizzie.'"

Teacher: "Isaac, what's an opcretta?"

Isaac: "It's a girl that works for a telephone company."

Prof: "What is the most common impediment in the speech of the American people?"
Freshie: "Chewing-gum."

Teacher: "Now, Robert, what is a niche in a church?"
Bobby: "Why, it's just the same as an itch any where else, only you can't scratch it as well."

Teacher: (after lesson on snow) "As we walk out on a cold winter day and look around, what do we see on every hand?"
Pupil: "Gloves."

ONLY ALTERNATIVE

A professor was deep in his work when his wife called: "Harry, the baby has swallowed the ink! Whatever shall I do?"
"Write with a pencil," was the dreamy reply.

JOKES

Johnson had been prosecuted for a rather doubtful offense.

"Jim Johnson," said the judge, in his severest tones, "the jury have taken a very lenient view of the case. You have had a very narrow escape and it should be a life-long warning to you. After this you ought to keep away from bad company."

"Yes, your lordship," replied Johnson. "Ye won't find me here again in a hurry."

"Doctor, is it absolutely necessary to operate on me?"

"N-no; but it's customary."

"Mummy, isn't that monkey like Uncle George?"

"Hush, darling, you musn't say things like that!"

"But the monkey can't understand, can he, mummy?"

"Mamma objects to his shortcomings and papa to his long stayings."

There's a time to part and a time to meet,
There's a time to sleep and a time to eat,
There's a time to work and a time to play,
There's a time to sing and a time to pray,
There's a time that's glad and a time that's blue,
There's a time to plan and a time to do,
There's a time to grin and to show your grit,

GIFTS THAT LAST

For Auld Lang Syne

THAT SCHOOL-DAY FRIENDSHIP —LET THE JEWELER HELP YOU PERPETUATE IT

THIS month more than a hundred thousand boys and girls will graduate from the colleges and universities of America.

For four years, these boys and girls have lived in a world of their own, forming friendships as close and true as life can develop.

To these friendships, Commencement Day often means the "parting of the ways"... the interruption of sympathetic ties which later years may never supplant.

There is no finer gift than an Elgin Watch. Featured in a wide style variety and sold at prices ranging from $15 to $1750.

But need the parting mean the end of these friendships?

Not if pleasant memories are kept alive with tokens that serve as lasting reminders of delightful Alma Mater days.

Your jeweler is headquarters for such enduring reminders — for "Gifts That Last" like the sentiment they commemorate.

They need not be expensive gifts. But they should be durable and serviceable, like friendship itself.

Whatever you would say to him or her, at the parting of treasured school-day comradeships, should be said for a lifetime.

So say it from the jeweler's stock with "Gifts That Last."
